ALDERMEN VOTE FOR LOW LICENSE

Refuse to Concur With Common Council on Raise of Liquor Dealers.

DEADLOCK RESULTS.

Bill is Amended by Vote of 5 to 2—Long Debate at Last Night's Meeting of Upper Board.

The Board of Aldermen at their meeting last night refused to concur with the Common Council in increasing the license taxes for the sale of liquor in this city one hundred dollars and after amending the first nine sections of the ordinance by placing the amounts at the figure of last year, passed it by a vote of 5 to 2.

On eight of the sections Messrs. Hill, Brill, Ballenger, Fitgerald and President Marbury voted against the increases, and Messrs. Field and Ogden voted for the bill as presented by the committee.

When section 6 making the license tax $250 for the sale of malt liquors by wholesale was read, a motion to place the sum at $150 as formerly was made by Mr. Hill. The vote stood: Ayes, Messrs. Hill, Brill, Fitzgerald and Mr. President—4. Noes, Messrs. Ballenger, Field and Ogden.—3.

The board was called to order a few minutes past 8 o'clock. A few spectators appeared outside the bar.

The bill having been read the second time at the last meeting, was open for amendments, and the clerk began its reading for the third time.

Section 1, placing the license tax at $275 upon dealers in liquor by wholesale, was read, and when Mr. Hill arose and said he was not at the meeting of the committee on finance when the ordinance was finally passed upon, and he thought those interested in the liquor business should have been given proper notice of the intention of the committee to report in favor of increasing the license tax upon all dealers in liquor $100 so that they could relinquish the business should they find they were unable to meet the increased expense. Dealers had paid $560 to the state which sum would be forfeited should they fail to procure a city license. Some would have undoubtedly retired from the business had they known the city contemplated making this increase. He moved that the license tax be placed at the former figure.

The amendment was adopted — Messrs. Hill, Brill, Ballenger, Fitgerald and President Marbury voting aye, and Messrs. Field and Ogden, no.

After section 2, placing the license tax to sell liquors by retail a t$250 instead of $150, as formerly had been read, Mr. Brill said that while having no thought for private business, he regarded the proposed increase as unjust and an imposition upon those engaged in saloon business. Such were already taxed to the limit. While he would not attempt to speak for others, he was acquainted with his own financial conditions. Continuing, he said the Board of Aldermen would incur the odium of holding up the ordinance for the reason that it had conveniently been placed before the Common Council first, otherwise the blame would have been placed upon the lower board. Mr. Brill insisted that the assertion that Petersburg, Lynchburg and other Virginia cities paid more for the privilege of selling liquor in Alexandria was illogical, as those places were larger and conditions by no means similar. Saloons were scattered in Alexandria. The speaker alluded to the oft repeated assertion that high license would freeze out such places as regarded as disreputable. This he denied by appealing to the fact that the proprietors of such places are generally first in paying their license taxes while those conducting other places, where additional expenses were incurred, experienced greater difficulty in meeting their obligations to the state and city. He charged that the propoganda being waged for prohibitive license taxes was in the interest of the state wide prohibition crusade. Mr. Brill asked Mr. Field, chairman of the finance committee, to explain the new departure by which the license bill was introduced in the Common Council first, and not in the Board of Aldermen, as heretofore.

Mr. Field said that on the night of its introduction in Council he had been compelled to leave the Board before the business was transacted, and had turned the bill over to a member of the finance committee in the lower board. He denied any intention of bringing odium of holding up the bill upon the aldermen.

Mr. Brill asked several questions concerning the subject of increasing the tax to such a figure when Mr. Field replied by saying it was necessary to increase the revenue about $6,000 as new school houses, etc., were desired, and he thought liquor dealers should bear the greater burden, although other licenses had been increased also.

Mr Brill said it looked as though the committee made the greatest plunge at the liquor interests and in order to save their faces had increased to a minor extent certain other licenses.

Mr. Brill said the saloonkeepers were the best friends of public schools, although he knew of but two who availed themselves of the oportunity afforded of educating their children in them.

Mr. Field insisted that revenue was needed in order to meet the expenses of the city, and he could see no good reason why license to sell liquor should not be increased.

Mr. Brill referred to the procedure by which the ordinance made its appearance first in the Common Council, and repeated his question if there was not a purpose in the procedure.

Mr. Field again denied that such was his intention.

Finally Mr. Hill moved that the sum be placed at $150, as formerly and his motion was adopted, 5 to 2. The same procedure followed when sections 4, 5, 7, 8, and 9 were read, but as stated above, when the section for taxing wholesale dealers in malt liquors was read Mr. Ballenger voted against the motion of Mr. Hill to reduce the license tax of $150, as formerly.

Mr. Hill subsequently introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That as the first nine sections of the ordinance for imposing and collecting license for fiscal year ending May 31, 1914, as passed by the Common Council, have been amended by this Board, and so far as is known the balance of the ordinance is acceptable, that he further reading of the ordinances be postponed and a conference committee of two members from the Common Council be requested to meet two members from the Board of Aldermen to reconcile, if possible, thte difference of opinion as to what can be considered an equitable tax.

Mr. Ballenger thought the resolution was out of order, as a request for a conference committee should come from the Common Council should that board fail to concur in the amendments made to the ordinance by the Board of Aldermen.

Mr. Hill explained that his purpose was for the purpose of expediting the work and also to bring about a reconciliation.

President Marbury agreed with Mr. Ballenger that the resolution was unnecessary, and Mr. Hill withdrew it.

After sundry questions had been propounded and answers returned the ordinance, as amended, was passed by the following vote:

Ayes, Messrs. Hill, Brill, Ballenger, Fitzgerald and Mr. President.—5. noes Messrs. Field and Ogden—2.

The Board then adjourned.

A called meeting of the Common Council was held at noon today. Vice President Thomas Chauncey presided and Messrs. Leadbeater, Spinks, Birrell, Graham, Monroe, Brockett, Harrison and Marshall were present.

The resolution authorizing the finance committee to borrow $4,000 to meet the current expenses of the city for the year closing, passed by the Board of Aldermen last Tuesday night, was read and adopted by a unanimous vote.

A motion was then made by Mr. Brockett to adjourn, and the motion prevailed.

No reference was made during the short time the board was in session to the license bill.

NORFOLK STORM NOT SO SERIOUS

Early Morning Reports of Severe Blow on Chesapeake Exaggerated.

NO LIVES ARE LOST.

Houses Were Overturned and Vessels Wrecked—Property Loss Will be Large—People Injured.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Norfolk, Va., ay 31. 2:30 p. m.—The early morning reports of last night's storm have been greatly exaggerated There has been no loss of life reported up to the present time and investigation has not been able to substantiate the eports of the loss of several vessels which were reported to have gone down and all hands lost.

The storm however was one of the most disastrous that has ever witited this city and the property loss will be very large.

Norfolk, Va., May 31.—With the wind reaching a velocity of approximately 75 miles an hour, accompanied by rain and hail, this section last night was visited by one of the worst storms it has ever experienced. More than a score of houses were wrecked and a number of people are reported to have been drowned.

While the steamer Virginia, of the Bay Line, was making her way out of the harbor en route to Baltimore in the teeth of the storm the tug John Towhy, at Pinners Point, signaled that a small boat containing several people had gone down and those on board were lost Their names were not learned. A launch containing a score of persons is reported to have been caught in the storm near Old Point and those on board are reported lost. Scores of small craft dragged anchors during the blow, and were either driven ashore or turned over.

In South Norfolk, a suburban residential section, fifteen houses were blown down, and while no lives are reported lost a score of persons are injured.

The mammoth government wireless mast erected in the navy yard was completely wrecked by the storm. The largest of the network of steel poles, commonly called the 5-gallon mast, was wrecked, and the plant was put out of commission. It would have been impossible to hear vessels calling for help in the storm had they needed it. The Marconi wireless plant at Virginia Beach is also reported to have been wrecked.

During the height of the storm, the revenue cutter Onondaga, which was lying at anchor in the harbor, was blown from her moorings and came near being driven ashore near Craney Island.

Five children were attempting to cross a Seaboard Air Line trestle in Portsmouth and one of them is reported to have been blown overboard.

Scores of cottages at Virginia Beach and Ocean View were damaged and several are reported to have been totally destroyed.

In City Hall avenue one of the principal business thoroughfares of the city, the gutters were unable to carry off the terrific amount of rain that fell, and many stores and offices were flooded. Every store and office on the first floor of the Monticello Arcade was flooded. Trees and wires in all sections of the city were blown down.

In Portsmouth the storm did considerable damage.

The Tunis Lumber Compsny suffered a loss of $10,000 when a shed 600 feet long, water tank and dust shield were blown away. The Greenleaf Johnson Company also sustained serious losses.

All lights in the city went out during the storm. The audience in the Colonial Theater sang sentimental and ragtime songs in the darkness, and the orchestra prevented a panic by playing "Dixie" and other popular airs.

GOSPEL WAGON SERVICE.

J. T. Preston of Chamber of Commerce Goes to Attend Last Service.

The Fauquier Union Mission Gospel wagon, which has been in operation in Fauquier county for the past sixteen years, will be used for services in the county for the last time tomorrow afternoon and evening, after which it is to be turned over to one of the missions in Washington for services in the district.

J. T. Preston, secretary-treasurer of the Alexandra Chamber of Commerce leaves this afternoon for Warrenton to take part in the last services ,the wagon will hold within that district before being turned over to the Washington mission.

Mr. Preston is one of the founders of the gospel wagon service, organized under the name of the Fauquier Union Mission, and for years was in charge of the music and signing. The wagon contained an organ and seats for eighteen people. Thousands of persons were converted during the time the services were held from this wagon. Meetings were advertised ahead and it was no unusual occurance to have from one to two thousand persons attending the Sunday meetings, the wagon bein gable to go to sections in the county that posessed no church facilities or preachers.

R. W. Hillery, of Warrenton, and Professor R. M. Clark, of the Corcoran Art School, are the prominent workers at present and they will be in charge of services tomorrow. In the afternoon the wagon will be at New Baltimore and the last service of the day will be held in the evening at Warrenton, which will be in the nature of a reunion for the organizers, some of whom will attend from other states, coming from points as far as Atlnta. As the Fauquier Union Missn gspelo e-n n p iitttteee ion Mission gospel wagon was a nondenominational oganization, it has been agreed to combine all church services in Warrenton in this one service with the gospel wagon, all denominations taking part.

The establishing of numerous churches and church organizations in Fauquier county in the past fifteen years was through the work of the gospel wagon, and it was unnecessary to retain the wagon in service in that section of the state.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR HOLD CENTENARY

Founding of Winchester Commandery Appropriately Celebrated.

LARGE ATTENDANCE.

Old Writings, Silver Jewels and Copper Seals Buried at Institution of Commandery.

Winchester, Va., May 31.—Large numbers of the members of Knight's Templar branch of Freemasonry from various sections of the East, including several officers from the Grand Encampment of the United States of America and a personal repersentative of Grand Master William B. Melish, of Cincinati, Ohio, the Grand Master of the Grand Encampment gathered yesterday in Winchester and joined with Winchester Commandery, No. 12, K. T., in celebrating the 100th anniversary of the founding of Christian Knighthood in Virginia. No such event has ever before been observed in the old Commonwealth, not even excepting the Grand Commandery of Virginia, for the Winchester Commandery was duly and formally instituted before the former body was organied in Richmond.

Winchester Commandery, according to well preserved documents found in a leaden box in the northeast corner of the old market-house, when that building was razed about 12 years ago to make way for the present city hall, was founded on May 30, 1813, by the 'officers and members of Winchester Grand Encampment of Sir Knights Templar No. 1 held in the fields of Winchester, State of Virginia." The order flourished here for many years, and when the Grand Commandery of Virginia was instituted in Richmond, in 1823, the Winchester Commandery was still reorganized as No. 1. After the civil war however, a reorganization of the State body took place, and the mother Commandery of the Commonwealth was then designated as "Winchester Commandery No. 12 Knights Templar.The old writings,silver Jewels and coper seals are still preserved in glas scases in the handsome Asylum of Winchester commandery where they are objects of greaet interest.

The local commandery has its asylum in the City Hall, which is built on ground dedicated by Thomas Lord Fairfax baron of Cameron and proprietor of the Northern Neck of Virginia, who in a deed, stipulated that mambers of the Masonic fraternity, of which he was an illusitrious paron, should always have a meeting place there, no matter what kind of a building may be erected on the spot.

From 1 to 1:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon a concert was given in the presence of a great gathering of visiting Knights and other peole from the cities and towns of the Shenandoah and Cumberland valleys and of Winchester and vicinty on the City Hall plaza.

A reception for all the grand officers and visiting commanderies was held in the City Hall until 3 o'clock, shortly after which the largest parade of Knights of Templar ever held in the Shenandoah Valley was held.

A reception was held from 7:30 to shortly after 8 o'clock when the banquet was served in courses.

KILLED ON WAY TO GRAVE.

Boy Was Hastening to Join His Father in Cemetery Where Brother is Buried.

His mangled body was found 50 feet from the bridge at the foot of an embankment which supports the approach to the structure.

SALE POSTPONED.

Rain seems to be an attendant of the Slaymaker-Schneider Corporation whenever the company attempts to hold a real estate sale.

The big Rosemont sale two weeks ago was postponed because of the inclement weather after arrangements had been made by Mr. Slaymaker for demonstrating to Alexandrians the many features that make that pretty suburb a desirable residence section. Yesterday the rain in the afternoon made it necessary to postpone the Braddock Heights auction sale which was to have been held at 3 p. m., but is postponed until next Saturday.

MEETING OF COMMITTEE.

Movement to Locate Armor Plate Factory in This City

A meeting of the business enterprise committee of the Chamber of Commerce was held this morning in their rooms at King and Washington streets.

The meeting had been called to devise measures to interest the federal government in Alexandria, which offers an ideal site for the armor plate works the city is about to establish Messrs. Harry Hammond, R. M. Graham and C. D. Hubbard were present

Richmond and Baltimore are active competitors for the plant, and the gentlemen representing the business interests of Alexandria are working a will in the interests of the city. A joint meeting of the business enterprise committee and the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce will be held on Tuesday night next at 8 o'clock for the purpose of further considering the matter.

Alexandria, it is believed, is the ideal spot for the proposed factory. It is located between the Washington navy yard and the proving grounds at Indian Head, and is convenient in every way.

The newly-reclaimed Baptising Cove comprising forty acres of land on the river front, could be acquired for the purpose. In addition to this tract the land upon which Jones's Point lighthouse is situated could be utilized in case the government concluded to abolish the lighthouse and place a gas buoy at that place, as has been suggested

CARS TAKE FIVE VICTIMS.

Man and Wife Hurt in One Mishap, Passengers in Other.

Atlantic City, N. ., May 31.—Hurled from their motorcycle when run down by an automobile near Egg Harbor yesterday Mr. and Mrs .Harry Jordan of No. 1 North Georgia Avenue, were both seriously hurt. In the automobile that had figured in the mishap they were rushed to the city hospital, where they are still confined on the supposition that they may be internally injured. Soon after their admission to the institution. Jas. Merenino, aged three years, of north Mississippi Ave., was run down by a reckless bicyclist, and sustained fractures of both ankles. No arrests were made in either instance.

Flung 20 feet in the air when a light automobile in which he was a passenger was sideswiped by a heavy touring car at Pacific and Mansion Avenues, Aaron Goldschmidt of New York, sustained injuries that necessitated his removal to the hospital. He was unconscious for some time, but was revived and is now on way to recovery. The driver of the touring car escaped by putting on full speed.

Suffering greatly from shock and from painful lacerations and bruises, Mrs. Viola Jones and Miss B. Cahen, of New York, who figured in an automobile accident near Tuckerton, arrived here tonight and are being cared for at a hotel. With Gustave Cahen, father of Miss Cahen, and another man, whose identity could not be learned, the young woman and Mrs. Jones were on their way here from New York, when their touring car skidded and turned over.

ALLEGED CONFESSION.

Makes Statement Concerning Pencil Factory Murder.

Atlanta, Ga., May 31.—Details of an alleged confession, admitting knowledge of the murder of Mary Phagan, which the police claimed to have secured from James Conley, a negro, have been made public.

According to the police, Conley stated that Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the factory, set him into the metal room of the plant on the day the girl disappeared, where the negro found her body.

Conley was taken to the National pencil factory by the police, and in the presence of many witnesses reenacted what he claims was his part in the removal of Mary Phagan's body.

According to a sworn statement, Conley, after finding the girl's body on the floor of the metal room, wrapped it in a piece of crocus bagging, placed the body upon his shoulder, and started toward the elevator. Halfway to the elevator the body slipped from Conley's shoulders to the floor. The negro then, the statement says, called Frank, who, he charges, assisted in carrying the lawsome burden to the pile of rubbish in the basement, where it was found the next morning by the negro watchman.

One man seriously wounded and at the point of death in the Salisbury hospital, at Crisfield, Md., six desperate negroes in the tois of the Somerset county officials, and great excitement throughout the county resulted from a battle between county officers and a number of negroes between midnight and daylight yesterday morning, at a lonesome spot on the county road about eight miles from Crisfield. At the opening of the strawberry season three weeks ago, the county was flooded with negroes from adjoining states who go to reap the harvest offered by the berry season. Alleged disorderly conduct on the part of the ngroes brought on the conflict.

BLIND FROM SHOT.

Colored Girl Collapses in Richmond Police Court.

Richmond, May 31.—A 19-year-old girl, who is totally blind from a charge of birdshot that struck her full in the face, collapsed on the witness stand yesterday in Justice Crutchfield's court while tectifying against her allegd assaiant The latter is Maggie Blunt. She was held for the grand jury.

Georgiana Pearson is the girl who was shot Both are colored. The shooting occurred May 9.

The injured girl entered court supported on each side by relatives. She stumbled at nearly every step and was half hysterical before reaching the witness stand. Before her testimony was completed she broke down completely. Justice Crutchfield ordered her taken home immediately.

The woman quarrled—The defense alleged about Maggie Blunt's husband—and threats pased between them. Maggie Blunt snatched up a shotgun and fired pointblank at her enemy. The other woman's face, particularly the uppr half, was peppered with fine shot.

GIRL KILLS SOCIETY MAN.

Her Friends Allege Breach of Promise to Marry.

Nashville, Tenn., May 31.—Admitting the killing, but refusing to discuss her motive for the act, Dolly Parker, 16 years old, was held here a prisoner after she fired five shots into the body of Herman Conditt, a young business man, who is a leader in the best circles of Nashville society.

Miss Parker has been away at school and returned only recently. She says she has known Mr. Conditt a year. He was 22 years old and manager of the cutlery department of the Gray & Dudley Hardware Co., the largest house of its character in the South. A sister of the girl runs a dance hall n the tenderloin district. The tragedy occurred in a saloon under this hall. No one saw the shooting.

Learning that Conditt was in the saloon, Miss Parker armed herself without saying a word to anyone. She went in and opened fire as soon as she saw him. The last of her five shots were fired after he had fallen unconscious to the floor. She was arrested at once and freely admitted the deed.

Her friends say that Conditt had promised to marry her and that she shot him for failing to keep his promise. Conditt's friends, who include many prominent persons here, say this story is absurd.

Several powerful tugs towed the American line steamship Haverford in to harbor at Queenstown Thursday morning. They released her from her dangerous position in Rocky Bay, immediately west of Cork Head, at high tide at 1 o'clock. She had been lying on the rocks since early Tuesday afternoon, when with 134 cabin and 850 steerage passengers aboard she went ashore in a dense fog. When she was brought into port she was down by the bows with 21 feet af water in her forehold and a considerable quantity in No. 2 hold. The vessel will be patched up as soon as workmen and material can reach her, and will then go to Liverpool for thorough repair.

ALDERMEN VOTE AGAINST INCREASES.

As had been anticipated, the Board of Aldermen at the adjourned meeting last night by a decided vote refused to concur with Common Council in increasing the license tax one hundred dollars on all persons engaged in the liquor business. The proceedings will be found elsewhere in the Gazette, in which the objectors give their reasons for their action. The ordinance will now go back to the lower bard, where its fate is problematical. The introduction of a resolution by Mr. Hill, which was however, withdrawn, is indicative of the fact that a majority of the members of the upper board are desirious that a committee of conference be appointed in order to see if the deadlock cannot be relaxed on terms satisfactory to both branches of Council.

Such incidents in the legislative bodies of the city government occur occasionally, and they are always to be regretted, but in this case as in others of bygone years the clouds are likely to break when both sides shall have come together and consulted upon conservative terms.

The liquor license in Alexandria has for many years been a bone of contention, some contending that the evils incident to the sale of intoxicants can be minimized in this and that way. At this time those favoring high license are most persistent, they imagining they see the remedy in their plan. Others, however, with equally as much logic, fail to see the fruition of such hopes, and contend that the saloonkeeper is already taxed almost beyond endurance. Some assert that their income from the business is about as much as can be made by an ordinary laborer, while others allege they are not remunerated even to that extent

The plan to centralize the trade in a few saloons of the higher class may eliminate some of less pretension, but it is suggested that this will not lessen the consumption of liquor.

BALTIMORE DISTURBED.

The commercial interests of Baltimore are disturbed over the prospects of the Pennsylvania Railroad constructing a tube under the Patapsco river thereby making the Monumental city a way station. It had been understood that the company was about to build a modern station at Baltimore, but it is now suspected that the real object of the corporation is to tunnel the Patapsco.

At the close of the civil war great complaint was made by the business people of Alexandria when the old Orange and Alexandria Railroad Company was making Alexandria a way station and Baltimore a terminal, which was being accomplished with the aid of the Baltimore and Ohio. It was alleged that freight from sourrounding county could be placed in Baltimore at the same rate charged to bring it to Alexandria. Baltimore being the gainer by this procedure chuckled over the discomfort experienced by this city. The latter place is now realizing the injustice of being made a way station by a powerful corporation.

Answer: Deed I will.

Holding him to your heart
Till death do you part?
Yes, I will do my level best.

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE

BIBLE STUDY ON

LESSONS LEARNED BY JOSEPH'S BRETHREN.

Genesis 44—June 1.

"Confess therefore your sins one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed."—James 5:16, R. V.

TODAY'S lesson shows that Joseph's experiences, mixed with faith, worked out for him a grand character, wholly obedient to God. But by a different process Joseph's brethren were exercised by remorse, and became more sympathetic, more brotherly-kind, more loyal to their father Jacob. Life's experiences are intended, under Divine supervision, to be corrective and helpful. Confidence in God, however, is necessary as a basis for any such blessing.

After the feast in which Joseph had given Benjamin five portions, the brethren departed for home, well pleased with their experiences. Joseph, however, desired to test their sympathy for their father and their loving interest in Benjamin. Therefore he caused his silver cup to be placed in Benjamin's sack of wheat. After the brethren had gotten fairly started homeward, Joseph sent servants to demand his cup.

"The cup was found in Benjamin's sack."

The brethren protested their innocence, and declared that if the cup were found in their possession, they would willingly become slaves. The search was made, and the cup found. In great distress the company wended its way back to the palace.

Again Joseph was austere and reproved them, that they might have opportunity to abandon Benjamin. Protesting innocence, they declared their willingness to become Joseph's slaves. But he answered that only the guilty one—Benjamin—should become his slave, and that the rest should return home, and continue to enjoy the favors of Egypt. This proposition he knew would test them. Had they the same heartlessness that they had exhibited when they sold him into slavery?

Then Judah, who had pledged himself that Benjamin should return in safety, made an eloquent appeal, and entreated that he be accepted as a slave in Benjamin's stead. He ended with the question, "How shall I go up to my father, and the lad be not with me? lest I see the evil that shall befall my father."

The evidence of a change of heart was satisfactory to Joseph, and is to us all. Those who love righteousness rejoice in righteousness, as those who love sin rejoice in it. When we perceive so marked a change in those men, we rejoice, not only for their sakes, but also at the general lesson furnished. The conviction is borne in upon us that much of the sin, the meanness, the cruelty of today may be attributed to inherited weaknesses and immature experience. We say, "How great a change would probably be effected by a broader, deeper knowledge of ourselves and others!"

And do not life's daily experiences tend to give us the broadening of sympathies, and thus character-development? Doubtless there are exceptions to every rule, but it is our conviction that a sufficiency of the likeness of God remains in every member of our race to permit him at times to appreciate the good, the noble, the pure. It is because he is surrounded by sin and selfishness that these godlike sentiments are so rarely brought into exercise.

When Will Men Profit?

Some will say, "Admitting that life's trials teach men the sinfulness of sin and the wisdom of righteousness, where would be the profit of such instruction if only the saintly, who walk in Jesus' footsteps under a covenant of self-sacrifice, are to share in the Kingdom? How will the remainder of the race profit by their experiences, if death ends all hope?"

The answer is that we have made a mistake respecting the teachings of the Bible. The Scriptures nowhere say that all hope of salvation ends when we fall asleep in death. So far as the Church is concerned, it is true that death ends their probation. But this is not true concerning the world. The Church alone is now on trial. The world's trial time will be in the next Age.

Christ's Reign will be the great thousand-year Day, in which will be determined the worthiness or unworthiness of everlasting life of all humanity. Those found worthy will eventually be perfected, and granted the Divine blessing of everlasting life. All then found unworthy will be condemned as unfit for life, sentenced to the Second Death.

"How shall I go to my father without the lad?"

The experiences of the present life, good or bad, will have their bearing upon the future trial, but will not decide the case for any one. Because of misuse of present opportunities and knowledge, some will enter upon the future life disadvantaged proportionately. These disadvantages will be their stripes, their chastisement, for present failures. Others, rightly exercised by the trials and difficulties of life, will be made more just, more loving, as were Joseph's brethren. Thus they will be the better prepared for a good entrance into the Messianic Kingdom, now, we believe, near at hand.

The balance, between ten and twelve hundred acres consists of valuable farming lands and about eight hundred (800) acres of valuable timber It has a large deep water frontage on the Potomac river as well as a large frontage on Dogue Creek, with valuable fishing shores. The property is improved by an old mansion house, familiarly known for many years as the "White House," a club house, barns, stables, out-buildings and tenant houses. It is situated on the county road between Mt. Vernon and Acotink and is about four miles by road from Mt. Vernon. Young Henthorn came home while his father, mother, and sister were seated at the supper table. Some argument ensued between father and son, whereupon the latter picked up a whereupon the latter picked up a shotgun standing in the corner of the room and deliberately aimed at his father.
